Quick guide to finding a translator or Interpreter

Please note: Names in bold followed by the letters ‘MITIA’ refer to Professional Members of the ITIA. Professional Membership is awarded to a translator / interpreter who meets the strict criteria of the ITIA based on 1) qualifications, 2) experience and 3) success in the annual ITIA Professional Membership Examination. All other individual members of the ITIA listed in this register are in the category ‘Associate Membership’.

To find a translator:

- 1) Look for the language combination required (e.g. from French into English) in Section I of this Register (pp 7 – 23). Note the name(s) of the translator(s) available for that language combination.
- 2) Then, see Section II (pp 24– 63) which is an alphabetical list of individual ITIA members, to access the contact details for the translator(s) selected.

To find an ITIA Certified Legal Translator (certified to translate, stamp and certify legal/state documents):

Please see page 6 of this document

To find an interpreter:

- 1) A quick guide to interpreters is available in Section III (pp 64 to 65), and is in the order of: Professional Members, Associate Members.
- 2) If you have selected an individual interpreter, please go to Section II (pp 24 – 63) to access the full contact details of the member(s) selected.

Overview of the ITIA Register of Members

This Register lists the contact details, languages and specialisations of all professional and associate members of the Irish Translators' and Interpreters' Association (ITIA) who are available to undertake translation or interpreting assignments on a commercial basis. Changes and updates have been incorporated up to 06 March 2018.

Section I is an index of translators and interpreter names according to language combination, e.g. from FRENCH into ENGLISH

If you are looking for a translator to work from Spanish (the “source” language) into English (the “target” language), consult Section I first to find the list of translators who work from Spanish into English. Then, for contact details about an individual translator, consult Section II.

Section II is an alphabetical list of all ITIA professional, associate and honorary members.

This list contains details of the language pairs of each translator and of the subject area specialisations. Translators whose names are listed in bold type, followed by the letters “MITIA” are Professional Members of the ITIA and have satisfied the requirements of the ITIA Professional Membership Sub-Committee in terms of qualification and experience and have achieved a PASS in the Professional Membership examination.

Section III This section is a list of the ITIA members available for interpreting, listed by professional and associate membership, indicating their mother-tongue and the language pairs in which they work. Interpreters' personal details are to be found in Section II

The ITIA has made every effort to ensure the accuracy of information in this Register and is not bound by any error, omission or edit made to individual entries.

All new data and changed information should be submitted to admin.itia@gmail.com . Web updates will be effected at the next possible date.

Section IV: Honorary Members of the ITIA

Membership of the ITIA can be one of four categories, student, associate, professional and honorary.

Please note that the categories of student and associate membership (but not professional) are open to students and others with an interest in translation or interpreting and should not therefore be interpreted as being a professional qualification. Membership of the Association does not constitute a recommendation.

ITIA Certified Legal Translators (for contact details, please see Section II)

The following translators are Professional Members of the ITIA who have passed the examination to become an ITIA Certified Legal Translator, which entitles them to certify and stamp only their own translations of legal and official documentation for state bodies, the courts, embassies, companies etc. Only the translators listed below are ITIA Certified Legal Translators and may use the Certification stamps issued by the ITIA.

SECTION III

INTERPRETING SERVICES

The following is an index of interpreters by source and target language. The mother tongue target language is listed last.

Go to Section II, the alphabetical list of interpreters, to find their contact details where interpreters are marked by the headset  logo.

Interpreters have been divided into two main categories according to the type of interpreting, i.e. the setting:

Bilateral Interpreting (court, community, public service,...)

Conference Interpreting: (simultaneous, consecutive, whispering,...)

Please note that some interpreters are listed in both categories. Interpreters whose names are listed in bold typeface are Professional Members of the Irish Translators' and Interpreters' Association /Cumann Aistritheoirí agus Ateangairí na hÉireann.

SECTION V

General Conditions of Service for Translation or Interpreting Work Commissioned

The following is a suggested set of guidelines which members of the ITIA and persons using the services of ITIA members might wish to follow when working together.

In submitting a text for translation, an individual or corporate body (the “Client”) enters into a binding agreement with the Translator or Interpreter. The said agreement is covered by the following terms and conditions:-

Translations

When commissioning a translation, the Client shall clearly indicate the intended use of the translation, specifying, for example, whether it is required for:

- information purposes only;
- publication in the form of a book, pamphlet, brochure or other form;
- advertising purposes;
- legal purposes;
- any other purpose where the particular rendering of the text by the translator employed is liable to be of consequence.

Express work will only be supplied subject to above clause.

Where the purpose of a translation is not disclosed to the Translator, the Translator shall treat the text as being for information purposes only (1.1.1 above).

Should the Client wish to use a translation for any purpose other than that for which it was originally supplied, the Client will obtain confirmation from the Translator that the translation is suitable for the new purpose.

Where necessary, the Translator reserves the right to amend and adapt such a translation previously supplied for the new purpose and to charge a further fee for such work.

If the Client uses a translation for a purpose other than that for which it was supplied, the Client will not be entitled to bring any claim in respect of the translation or to receive any compensation from the Translator. The Client will indemnify the Translator against any loss arising to the Translator in good will or otherwise as a result.

Translators

The Translator will only supply translations which have been prepared by a competent translator. The Translator will make every reasonable effort to check the accuracy of a translation before offering it to a client.

The Translator reserves the right to sub-contract all or part of a text to be translated to a contractor of his/her choice, unless this is expressly stipulated otherwise by the Client. The Translator may also sub-contract other work associated with the translation such as typing, for example.

Where translations are supplied for purposes other than that described above, the Translator may call on the services of additional native speaker(s) or subject expert(s) in the language(s) concerned. Additional fees may be charged for such proof-reading work.

Mutatis mutandis, the terms of this document shall apply to interpreters and their work.

Confidentiality

The Translator will treat all texts and information supplied to him by both present and former clients as confidential and will not disclose or use this confidential information to the disadvantage or prejudice of such clients, or to his own financial advantage.

Delivery

The Client will give a clear indication of delivery requirements when submitting texts for translation. The Translator shall make every reasonable effort to meet the Client's requirements. However, late delivery will not entitle the Client to withhold payment for work done, except where the provisions of Clause 4.2 below apply.

Where a delivery date is a material part of a Commission accepted by the Translator, this will be disclosed by the Client in advance and this will be agreed, in writing, by the Translator.

Payments

Failure to adhere to the Terms of Payment agreed between the Client and Translator will entitle the Translator to abandon any Commission in hand, including any Commission accepted subject to the terms of Clause 4.1 above, without prejudice to any rights of the Translator whatsoever. In any event, the Client undertakes to pay the Translator for work already completed.

Quotations

Binding quotations will not be given by the Translator for documents which have not been seen. Quotations for texts which have not been seen will be subject to confirmation on receipt of the documents in question.

Force majeure

In the event of force majeure, the Translator will notify the Client without delay, by telephone, fax or email, where possible. Force majeure will entitle both the Translator and the Client to withdraw from the Commission, but, in any event, the Client undertakes to pay the Translator for work already completed.

The Translator will give every assistance to the Client in placing his Commission elsewhere.

The Client may not withhold payment of any monies due to the Translator as a result of failure or delay of the Translator in completing a commission, where this is a result of force majeure. Force majeure will include lockout, industrial dispute, civil commotion, natural disaster, acts of war, inclement weather, mechanical breakdown, illness and any other situation which can be shown to have materially affected the Translator's ability to deal with the Commission as agreed.

Applicable Law

These General Conditions of Service will be interpreted in accordance with the law of the Republic of Ireland and do not alter or limit the statutory rights of the Client in accordance with the laws of the Republic of Ireland.

The ITIA Register 2016 has been compiled and edited by members of the ITIA Executive Committee. The Irish Translators' and Interpreters' Association / Cumann Aistritheoirí agus Ateangairí na hÉireann has made every reasonable effort to ensure the accuracy of the information in this Register.

The ITIA is not bound by any error, omission or edit made to individual entries. Changes and notified updates have been incorporated up to the 06 March 2018.

Updates should be submitted to the Administrative Assistant at admin.itia@gmail.com or in writing to the Administrative Assistant, ITIA, 19 Parnell Square, Dublin 1.
